

POREDBENO POMORSKO PRAVO = COMPARATIVE MARITIME LAW

Uredništvo časopisa

Professor MARTIN DAVIES, D.C.L. (Oxon.), M.A. (Oxon.), LL.M. (Harv.)

Tulane University Law School
6329 Freret St
New Orleans LA 70118, USA
Email: mdavies@tulane.edu

Personal information

Born: 1957 (London, England)

EDUCATION

- 1978 – B.A. (Jurisprudence), University of Oxford
- 1979 – B.C.L., University of Oxford
- 1980 – LL.M., Harvard Law School
- 1983 – M.A., University of Oxford
- 2022 – D.C.L., University of Oxford

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

- 1980-1981 – Lecturer, Nottingham University, U.K.
- 1983-1989 – Lecturer, University of Western Australia
- 1989-1995 – Senior Lecturer and Associate Professor, Monash University
- 1995-2000 – Harrison Moore Professor of Law, University of Melbourne
- 2000-present – Admiralty Law Institute Professor of Law, Tulane University Law School
- 2004-present – Director, Tulane Maritime Law Center

- Visiting Professor, National University of Singapore (2004, 2008, 2009), Università degli Studi Cagliari (2007, 2008), Baku State University (2014, 2015), Dalian Maritime University (2016)

MEMBERSHIP

- Titulary Member, Comité Maritime International (2019)
- Member, Maritime Law Association of the United States (2000-present)
- Member, Maritime Law Association of Australia and New Zealand (1989-2000)
- Associate Member, American Bar Association (2000-present)

Bibliography (selected)

1. Davies, Martin; Dickey, Q. C. Anthony
Shipping Law.
Thomson Reuters, 4th ed., 2016.

2. Davies, Martin; Force, Robert; Yiannopoulos, A. N.
Admiralty and Maritime Law: Practitioner's Edition, 2 volumes.
Beard Books, 2nd ed., 2019, 2021.

3. Davies, Martin; Snyder, David V.
International Transactions in Goods: Global Sales in Comparative Context.
Oxford University Press, 2014.

4. Davies, Martin; Bell, Andrew; Brereton Paul; Douglas, Michael
Nygh's Conflict of Laws in Australia.
LexisNexis Butterworths, 10th ed., 2019.

Many articles and book chapters on aspects of maritime law, private international law, international sale of goods.

(...) <https://law.tulane.edu/faculty/full-time/martin-davies>