REVIEW FORM

Instructions to Reviewers

Submitted papers are subject to a double blind peer review process. Any paper received for review and the information or ideas obtained through peer review ought to be kept confidential. Reviewers are requested to provide their comments and critiques in a constructive and unbiased manner. Reviewers are expected to assess: 1) originality and scientific contribution of the paper, 2) adequacy of scientific methodology, 3) use of appropriate terminology, 4) appropriate literature citations, 5) adequacy of the title (does the title reflect the content), 6) completeness and adequacy of the abstract/summary (does it adequately summarize the paper), 7) use of appropriate key words.

Papers accepted for publication are classified under one of the following categories:

- original scientific paper – a paper which is characterised by originality of conclusions, or which presents previously unpublished original results of scientific research
- review article – a paper which contains a detailed and comprehensive critical review of a certain problem area, but with no significant originality of results
- preliminary communication – a paper which presents primary findings of research in progress, which due to current interest require immediate publication, but without the level of deep and thorough study required for the scientific paper
- professional paper – a paper which contains information and experience relevant for a certain profession, but without scientific characteristics.
